Prof. Martin Zinkernagel

Bridging Science and Sight

Director and Chief Physician of the Clinic for Ophthalmology
University Hospital of Bern

The event will explore the field of ophthalmology - the eye is a fascinating organ that combines optical, mucosal, and neural elements, and is ideal for imaging and drug delivery both in clinical practice and laboratory research. Prof. Zinkernagel will discuss the complexities of the eye, recent advancements in ocular research and the academic and professional connections in ophthalmology between Switzerland and Australia.

Aperitif served following the presentation. Optional sitem-insel tour prior to the presentation - please note your interest when registering.
